

CHILD SAFETY

RESPONDING AND REPORTING

POLICY

Rationale

To ensure school staff are aware of their roles and responsibilities in protecting the safety and wellbeing of children and young people and are able to:

- understand their various legal obligations to report and take other reasonable steps to discharge the duty of care that may be owed to the child or young person
- identify indicators that a child or young person has been, is being, or is at risk of being abused
- make a report about a child or young person who has been, is being, or is at risk of being abused.

For information on how to make a report, see: Child Protection - Making a Report

Reporting obligations

The following table summarises the mandatory and other reporting obligations where there is a concern that a child or young person has been, is being, or is at risk of being abused.

The table below describes other reporting obligations.

Type of reporting	Obligation
Child in need of protection	Any person can make a report to DHHS Child Protection if they believe on reasonable grounds that a child is in need of protection for any of the following reasons: <ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>• the child has suffered or is likely to suffer significant harm as a result of:</li><li>• physical injury and their parents are unable or unwilling to protect the child</li><li>• sexual abuse and their parents are unable or unwilling to protect the child</li><li>• emotional or psychological harm and their parents are unable or unwilling to protect the child.</li></ul>

- the child has been abandoned and there is no other suitable person who is willing and able to care for the child.
- the child's parents are dead or incapacitated and there is no other suitable person who is willing and able to care for the child.
- the child's physical development or health has been, or is likely to be significantly harmed and the parents are unable or unwilling to provide basic care, or effective medical or other remedial care.

Department policy requires all staff who form a belief on reasonable grounds that a child or young person is in need of protection to report their concerns to DHHS Child Protection or Victoria Police. In the case of school staff, they must also discuss their concerns with the principal or a member of the school leadership team.

Child in need of therapeutic treatment

Any person who believes on reasonable grounds that a child over 10 but under 15 years of age has been exhibiting sexually abusive behaviours and may be in need of therapeutic treatment should make a report to DHHS Child Protection.

Sexually abusive behaviours can be exhibited when a child uses their power, authority or status to engage another person in sexual activity that is unwanted, or where the other party is incapable of giving informed consent (such as other children who are younger or who have cognitive impairments).

In the case of student sexual offending, Department policy requires staff to also report to the Victoria Police. In the case of school staff, they must also discuss their concerns with the principal or a member of the school leadership team.

Significant concerns for the wellbeing of a child

Any person who has a significant concern for the wellbeing of a child should report these concerns to DHHS Child Protection, or refer the child and their family to Child FIRST.

A significant concern for the wellbeing of a child may arise, for instance, where any of the following factors may have a significant adverse impact on a child's care, welfare or development:

- significant parenting problems
  - family conflict or family breakdown
  - pressure due to a family member's physical/mental illness, substance abuse, or disability
  - vulnerability due to youth, isolation or lack of support

- significant social or economic disadvantage. In the case of school staff, they must also discuss their concerns with the principal or a member of the school leadership team.

For more information, see PROTECT - Responding to other concerns about the wellbeing of a child

Additional legal obligations

In addition to the mandatory reporting and other reporting obligations mentioned above, all school staff have duty of care obligations and obligations arising out of the Child Safe Standards. The table below contains information about these obligations.

Obligation	Description
	All school staff have a duty of care to take reasonable steps to prevent reasonably foreseeable injury to children and young people under the care. This includes taking reasonable steps to protect their safety, health and wellbeing. In the case of a child who may be in need of protection or therapeutic treatment, or where there are significant concerns about the wellbeing of a child, reasonable steps may include (but are not necessarily limited to): <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• acting on concerns and suspicions of abuse as soon as practicable</li> <li>• seeking appropriate advice or consulting with other professionals or agencies when the school staff member is unsure of what steps to take</li> <li>• reporting the suspected child abuse to appropriate authorities such as Victoria Police and DHHS Child Protection</li> <li>• arranging counselling and/or other appropriate welfare support for the child</li> <li>• providing ongoing support to the child and young person – this may include attending DHHS Child Protection Case Planning meetings, and convening regular Student Support Group meetings</li> <li>• sharing information with other school based staff who will also be responsible for monitoring and providing ongoing support to the child or young person.</li> </ul> For more information on responding to all forms of child abuse, see PROTECT: Four Critical Actions

Duty of care

The Child Safe Standards are compulsory minimum standards for all Victorian early childhood services and schools to ensure they are well prepared to protect children from abuse and neglect. The Standards support all Victorian early childhood services and schools to embed a culture of no tolerance for child abuse but, where necessary, to respond appropriately to actual or suspected abuse.

Training obligations

School staff play a vital role in protecting children from harm and are well placed to observe signs or behaviours that may indicate risks of child abuse, neglect or exploitation.

The Protecting Children – Mandatory Reporting and Other Obligations eLearning module (the module) is an essential professional learning resource that assists schools to protect the safety and wellbeing of children and young people.

The module provides detailed information for identifying and responding to child abuse, and includes case studies and practical scenarios to assist staff fulfil their reporting obligations.

Requirements - school staff

Staff in schools who are:

- mandated reporters must undertake the training once per calendar year
- not mandated reporters are strongly encouraged to undertake the training once per calendar year.

Requirements - Region and Area staff

Department staff who:

- are mandated reporters must undertake the training once per calendar year
- have roles that engage with students or provide advice to schools or teachers about mandatory reporting or child safety matters are strongly encouraged to undertake the training once per calendar year.

The module takes approximately 30 to 45 minutes to complete. Participants receive a certificate of completion upon successful completion of a short assessment. A 12-month alert is also provided to remind participants to complete the module the following year.

To achieve the best results from training, staff are strongly encouraged to participate in discussions around the content, with a focus on the importance of their role in protecting children and young people.

Principals can contact the Wellbeing, Health and Engagement Division to obtain a list of staff who have completed the module, by email to: student.engagement@edumail.vic.gov.au
